Declaration
concerning the Master's thesis in Sociology

I hereby confirm

- that the thesis I have submitted is the product of my work and mine alone,
- that I did not use any other resources or aids other than the ones explicitly deemed permissible beforehand or otherwise cited by me in the paper,
- that I have provided the sources for any portion of my paper that uses direct quotations or borrowed ideas/concepts/results/etc. from other works, including Internet sources and AI-based tools,
- that I have not submitted the paper for other examinations.

Furthermore, I am aware

- that if I do not submit my results by the deadline communicated to me in advance, I will fail the assessment,
- that if I am caught attempting to cheat, I will fail the examination,
- and that if my attempt to cheat is particularly severe, I could potentially fail the examination with no opportunity to retake it and not be allowed to continue my studies in this program,
- that, if I used AI-based tools to write this paper, I bear the responsibility for any false or biased content, erroneous references, violations against data privacy or copyright law, or incidences of plagiarism generated by the AI.
